THE TOPS IN POPS

THIS year, Tommy Dorsey celebrated his fifteenth year in the band business. He occupies a unique niche in the entertainment field. World-famous for his brilliant technique in jazz, he is a highly respected musical artist who has made classical recordings, too. The music world respects his keen judgment of talent and his ability to build new stars.

The Dorsey musical aggregation also has been the incubator for many of the most important names in show business. The stimulating "Tee Dee" personality has sparked innumerable radio and film appearances. His famous theme, "Getting Sentimental Over You," won for Dorsey the familiar label, "The Sentimental Gentleman."

Born in Mahoney Plane, Pa., where his father was an accomplished instrumentalist, teacher, and band organizer, Tommy attended high school in Shenandoah. His father gave him intensive musical training in every instrument of the brass section before the trombone was selected.

His first earnings, however, came from driving a truck for a meat market. For this he received $16 a week, but he soon discovered that trombone playing, even in small bands, was much more remunerative. He and his brother, Jimmy, played numerous one-nighters together, traveling throughout the coal regions of Pennsylvania. They finally organized their first orchestra, which they called the Dorsey Brothers Novelty Band. Although their group didn't make the grade outside their home town, they were soon offered a job with "big time" name bands, and spent the next ten years switching from one band to another on the road, on radio stations, and in theaters.

By 1935, the Dorsey brothers had blown their horns with almost every major name orchestra, and then they organized their own sensational unit, which boasted, among other celebrated side men, the late Glenn Miller on the trombone. After almost two years, the brothers broke up and Tommy opened with his own band at the French Casino. The rest is history. For ten years Tommy Dorsey has retained his leadership on the air, in personal appearances, and on RCA Victor recordings.

One of his latest platters on the RCA label is "C'est Si Bon," with a good vocal job by pretty Frances Irvin. It's backed by "I Oughta Know More About You." Jack Duffy joins Frances on this Dorsey disc. Another new and excellent Tommy Dorsey waxing is "Comin' Thru the Rye," coupled with "I Hadn't Anyone Till You."

Perry Como fans won't want to bypass Perry's latest Victor platter, "Hoop-De-Doo." It's a fast-beat novelty tune with a real music-hall bounce and delightful lyrics by Perry and the Fontane Sisters. In "On the Outgoing Tide," the plattermate, Como is at his best, singing in slow, lilting rhythm of a love that will survive earthly obstacles.

Capitol Records has just released a slew of new discs. If you're a Dixieland fan, take a gander at the records bearing the Capitol label and you're sure to discover the best in Dixieland. Sharkey and His Kings of Dixieland waxed what we consider the best Dixieland piece of the month—"In the Mood," backed by "Solo Mio Stomp." Sharkey Bonano is on the trumpet; Santo Pecora on the trombone; Lester Bouchon on the clary; Jeff Riddick, piano; Chink Martin, tuba; and Monk Hazel on the drums. This combo makes for a sure-fire winner.

Paul Weston got in on the renewed Dixieland fad and recorded two old Dixie favorites, "Original Dixieland One-Step" and "Panama." Paul does many of the orchestral backgrounds on the Capitol discs, and this new release is up to his usual fine standard.

Jan Garber and his orchestra can take a bow for their version of "The Old Piano Roll Blues." The flip-over is "Clodhopper," a strictly instrumental job. The label is purple, which means it's Capitol.

A record that's getting a lot of play is "Choo'n Gum." Kitty Kallen on the Mercury label does a great job with the song, and on the reverse side she is equally effective with another brassy tune entitled "Juke Box Annie."

Also on a Mercury waxing, Bobby Sherwood and his orchestra will have you jumping to his great interpretation of "Muskrat Ramble" and "Dixieland Ball."

Incidentally, Frankie Laine had better watch his step. Satan from "Satan Wears a Satin Gown" doesn't like the way that girl from the swamp is taking the play away from her; "Swamp Girl" is a big hit. You'll like it though if you latch on to these two Laine Mercury recordings.

Columbia has just released an album by Arthur Godfrey called "Arthur Godfrey and His Friends." The old redhead sings some of the tunes he helped make popular, such as "Too Fat Polka," "Candy and Cake," and "Making Love, Ukulele Style."

Frank Sinatra, Jane Russell and the Modernaires team up to make mighty good listening on a Columbia platter entitled "Kisses and Tears." On the flip-over Frank works without Jane in "When the Sun Goes Down."

Decca Records has a winner with the Andrews Sisters' platter, "I Wanna Be Loved." Patty Andrews handles the vocal with her sisters backing her up. The flip side is another Andrews Sisters gem called "I've Got to Get Out of the Habit."

You'll be singing a ditty called "Teasin'" very shortly. It's a new Coral platter excellently performed by Connie Haines. The reverse side is an effective rendition of "All I Do Is Wantcha." Georgia Gibbs on the Coral label has turned out a fine job doing "I Don't Care If the Sun Don't Shine" and "I'll Get Myself a Choo Choo Train." Coral is a subsidiary of Decca, and they are turning out good discs in the tradition of the latter company.

M-G-M released a new Billy Eckstine record entitled "My Destiny," which is reminiscent of an old Eckstine platter, "Somehow." The coupler finds Mr. B. adding his magic to "Roses."

Johnny Desmond has recorded one of the cutest novelties in many a month. Two distinctive melodies and a catchy lyric are all wrapped up neatly into a tricky little thing called "The Picnic Song." The reverse side is "I've Got a Heart Filled With Love."

If you're a blues fan, you'll want to hear the Striders' new Apollo disc—"Five O'Clock Blues" and "Cool Saturday Night."

—::—

We've received many letters from you fans asking us to list the companies that are producing records in the three speeds. Here's the info:

BUT DRAMATICS MEANT MORE TO YOUNG LUCILLE THAN DID THE KEYBOARD OF A PIANO. HER HEART SET ON BECOMING AN ACTRESS, SHE ENROLLED IN "THE JOHN MURRAY ANDERSON DRAMATIC SCHOOL". ONE DAY A TEACHER TOOK HER ASIDE...

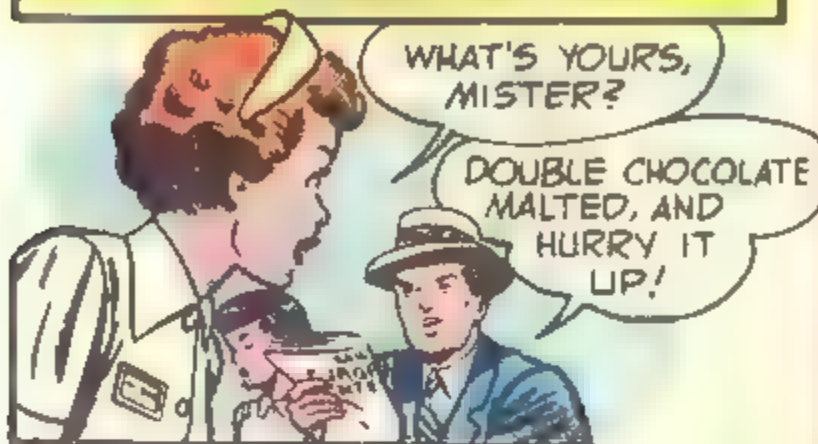

MY MOTHER'S ENROLLING ME IN THE "CHALTAUQUA INSTITUTE OF MUSIC" TOMORROW!

YOUR MOTHER PLAYS IN CONCERTS, DOESN'T SHE? MAYBE YOU'LL BE FAMOUS LIKE HER SOMEDAY!

YOU'D BETTER START JOB HUNTING, LUCILLE! YOU'RE WASTING MONEY STUDYING DRAMATICS!

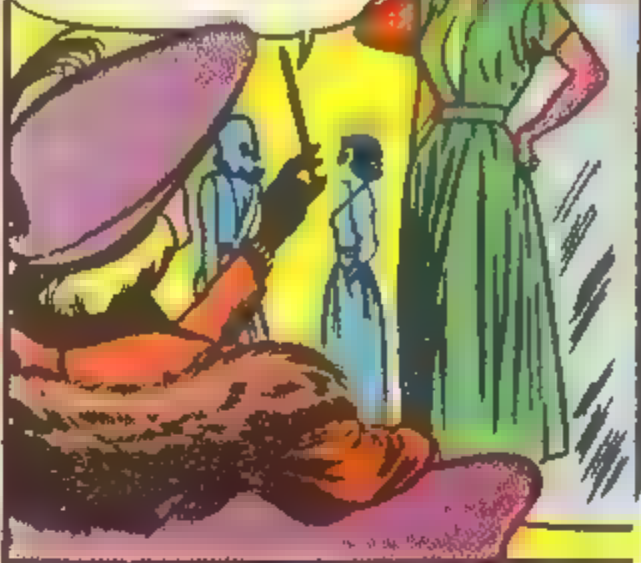

BUT LUCILLE REFUSED TO GIVE UP HER DREAMS SO EASILY. SHE GOT A JOB WITH THE ROAD COMPANY OF "RIO RITA". THEN ONCE AGAIN THE JINX STRUCK WHEN SHE WAS FIRED FOR "INEXPERIENCE". LUCILLE BEGAN TO THINK THE TEACHER HAD BEEN RIGHT. FOR SOME TIME SHE MIXED SODAS IN A BROADWAY STORE...

BUT LUCILLE'S TITIAN LOVELINESS WAS TOO BREATH-TAKING TO BE WASTED BEHIND A SODA FOUNTAIN! SHE WAS SOON WORKING AS A MODEL IN MANHATTAN'S COAT-AND-SUIT SECTION... WHERE WORLD-FAMOUS DESIGNER, HATTIE CARNEGIE, SAW HER AND HIRED HER...

MY DEAR, YOUR BEAUTY IS WASTED HERE! COME TO MY FIFTH AVENUE SALON-- I'LL MAKE YOU A GREAT MODEL!

JUST WHEN IT APPEARED THAT HER FAME AS A CARNEGIE MODEL WOULD PAY OFF ON THE STAGE, A TRAGIC AUTO-MOBILE ACCIDENT IN CENTRAL PARK PUT LUCILLE IN A WHEELCHAIR FOR THREE YEARS!

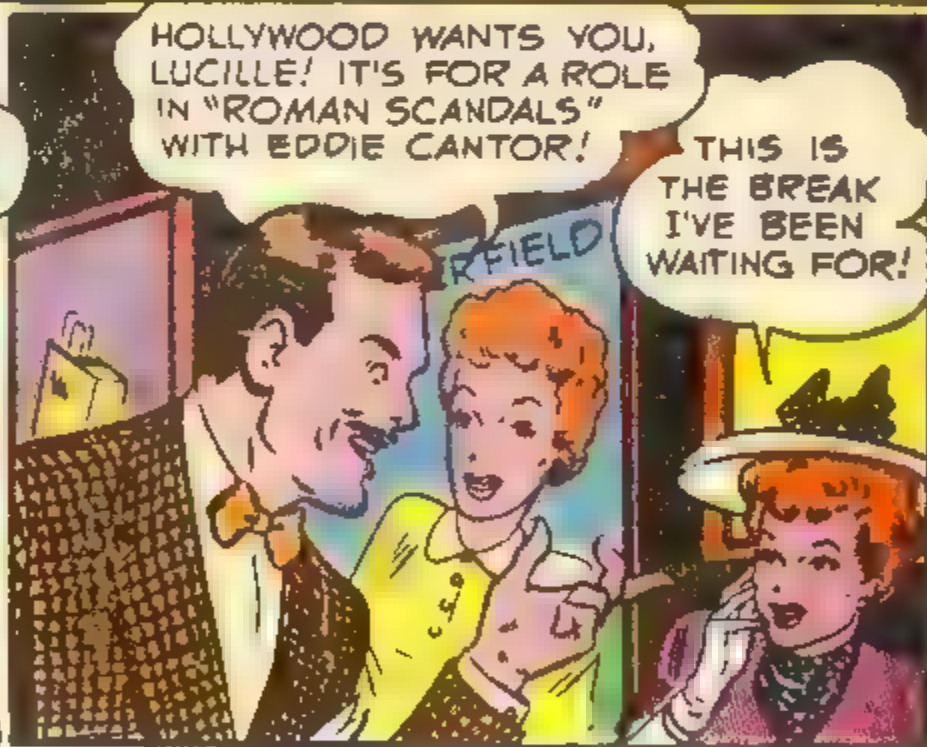

IT WAS A BAD ACCIDENT, LUCILLE, AND YOU'RE LUCKY TO BE ALIVE! BUT KEEP YOUR CHIN UP! WE'LL DO OUR BEST AND MAYBE SOME DAY YOU CAN WALK AGAIN...

THREE YEARS OF GRITTY BATTLING AGAINST PAIN AND DISCOURAGEMENT FOLLOWED. BUT LUCILLE'S PLUCK AND PERSEVERANCE SAW HER THROUGH, AND FAME CAME TO HER AS THE "CHESTERFIELD GIRL". AND THEN...

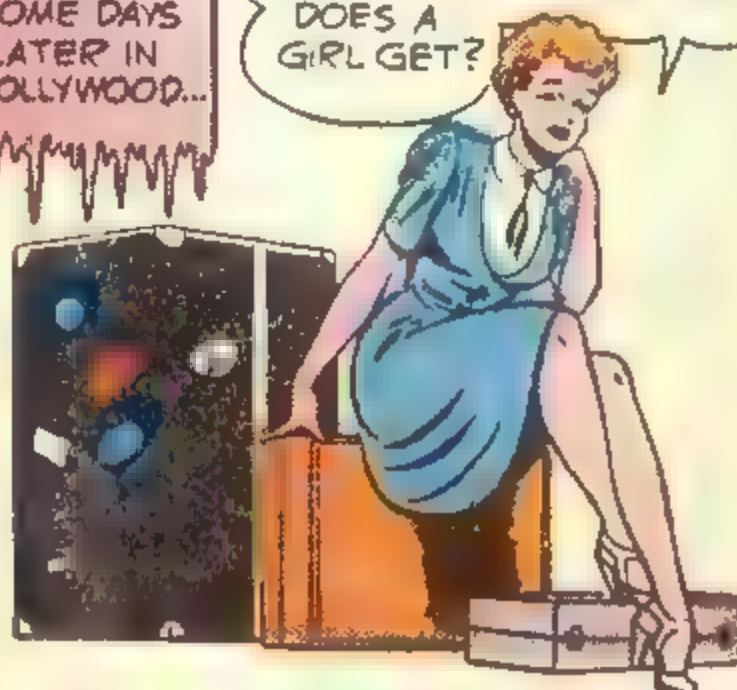

HOLLYWOOD WANTS YOU, LUCILLE! IT'S FOR A ROLE IN "ROMAN SCANDALS" WITH EDDIE CANTOR!

THIS IS THE BREAK I'VE BEEN WAITING FOR!

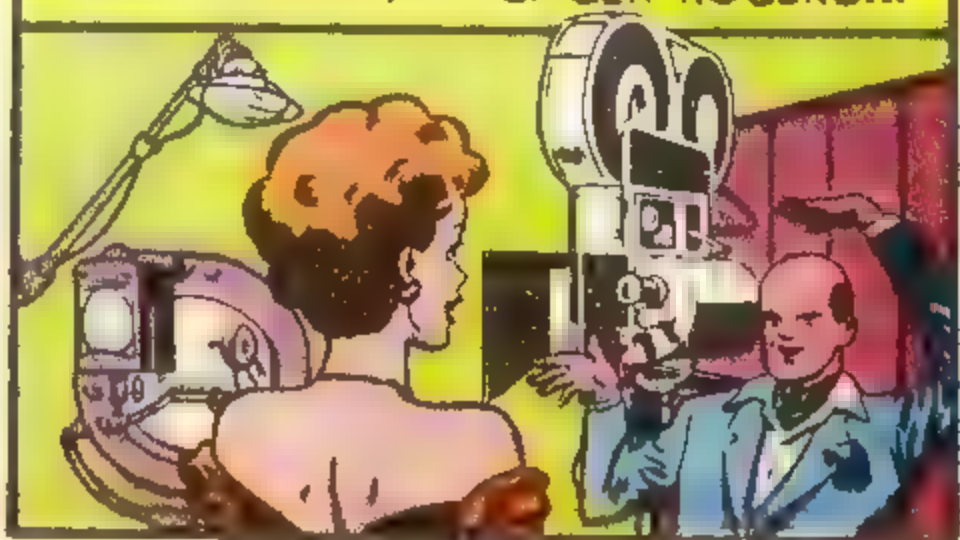

BUT IT WAS A BITTERLY DISAPPOINTED LUCILLE SOME DAYS LATER IN HOLLYWOOD...

FINE THING! MY MOVIE COMPANY DISSOLVED AND I'M OUT OF A JOB AGAIN! HOW MANY TOUGH BREAKS DOES A GIRL GET?

LUCILLE GRITTED HER TEETH, HOWEVER, AND AFTER A FEW BIT PARTS, PARAMOUNT CAST HER IN "ROBERTA", STARRING FRED ASTAIRE AND GINGER ROGERS...

SCREEN SCRAPBOOK

There's a 300,000-gallon tank at the Warner Brothers studio which poses in various movies as an ocean, river, or lake. Recently, Oscar-winner Jane Wyman had to spend several long, damp days in the tank for shots of a scene in which her sailboat overturns in a bay. Between "takes," dripping Miss Wyman was hustled into towels and robes, and comforted with hot coffee. Despite her moist misery, one thing was sure: the pert star couldn't drown! Even if she didn't have the finest home-made dog-crawl in Hollywood, her safety was assured by the presence of at least 100 would-be lifeguards—the crew of "The Lady Takes a Sailor." When the director informed Jane that Bette Davis had once "drowned" in the same tank for a dramatic suicide scene, her only reply to the grim thought was a plaintive, "I wonder if she got as wet as I am!"

Members of a certain studio casting office are sure now that they've heard everything! A woman phoned to ask if she could register for work. "For yourself?" queried the studio. "No," she replied, "I want to register my two palm trees. They're awfully pretty and they'd look good in a picture." "You must be ribbing me," said the casting director, whereupon the woman got wrathful and banged down the receiver.

Character-actor Raymond Massey owns a pre-Revolutionary Connecticut farmhouse, and it's haunted by an unusual ghost—the ghost of a horse! "Our parlor was once a stable," explained the star, "and it was there that a horse died in 1711." He hasn't seen the equine phantom yet, but his invisible presence is common knowledge. "People think I'm mad," continued Massey, "when I tell them my ghost situation. It seems that horses, poor things, are soulless, and therefore aren't supposed to have the material from which ghosts are made!"

Handsome Dennis Morgan lost most of his buttons at a recent press preview of "Perfect Strangers," in which he co-stars with Ginger Rogers.

The debuttoning, at the hands of avid autograph seekers, occurred when he left the theater after the show. It left Mr. Morgan in quite a state of embarrassment, and with the feeling that somebody ought to invent a "courtesy code" for signature hounds—one that would get better results for them, and at the same time leave their victims clad in something more than a tie!

"The 'code'," Mr. Morgan said, "should contain the following 'don'ts':

"Don't maul an actor. He may need his buttons more than you do.

"Don't ask him to use his own pen—and if you do, don't grab it. It may be a priceless keepsake.

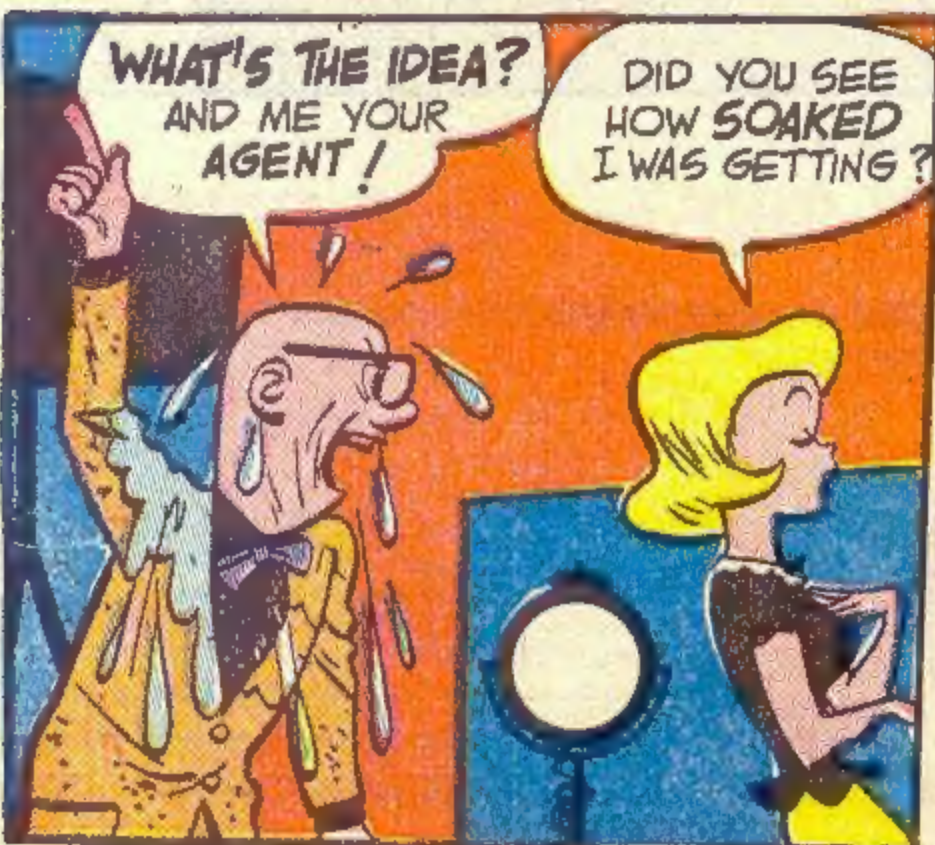

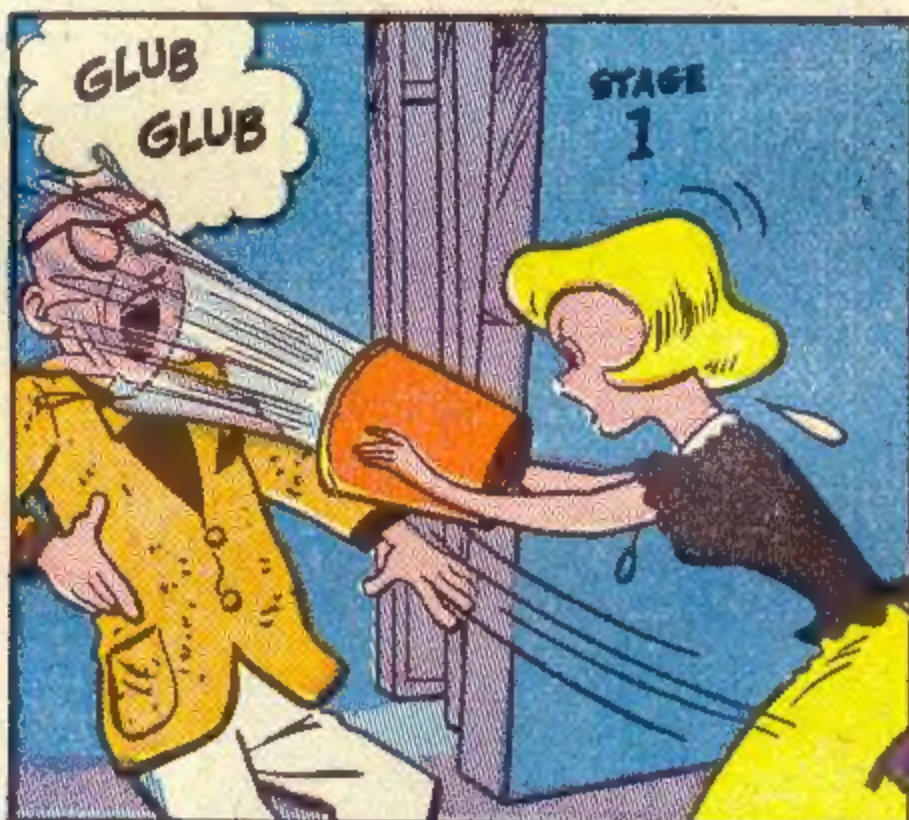

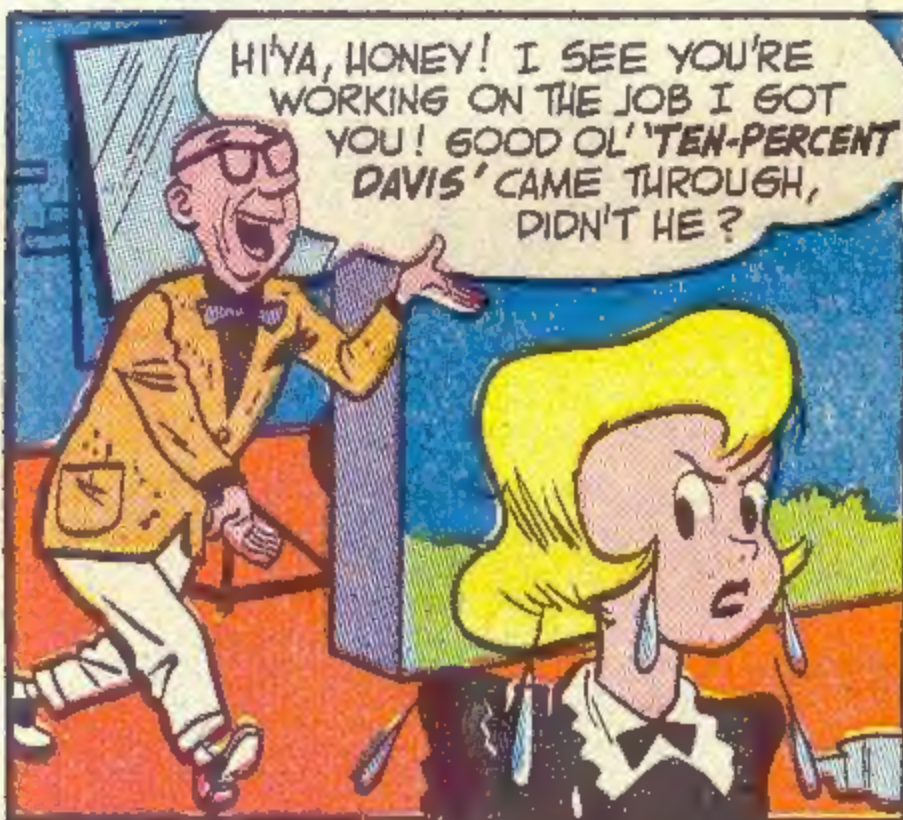

"Don't stick your autograph book in his car if it's moving away from the curb. You might get run over.

"Don't ask him to write out a special message to you if he's surrounded by other autograph seekers. Give them a break, too.

"Don't flash a bulb in his face. It might shatter and cut him. If you must get a picture, you'll get better ones by standing further away.

"Don't approach him while he's dining in a restaurant. Even an actor is entitled to eat in peace. If you must have his signature, wait until he gets outside.

"Most actors and actresses," Morgan concluded, "really love to give autographs. They'll give them all day if things are kept pleasant and comfortable!"
